

Should I Move This To THE CLOUD?

Not all applications or sites can – or should – move to the cloud. This is due to things like compliance rules, regulations or technical limitations. So how do you figure it out? First, decide your desired business outcomes (cost reduction, agility, speed, offloading workload, etc.). From there, make a list of the sites or apps that you're considering moving to the cloud, and run through a series of questions to determine if there are any reasons you should refrain from moving a site or app to the cloud. This flowchart will help you get through the exercise quickly. Enjoy!
